I had the opportunity to climb through an Aviator already, and I found ample visibility in the front row and oodles of space in the second row.. The steering wheel is new for Lincoln, with a pair of thumb sticks surrounded by illuminated switchgear and a relocated voice recognition button at the 10 o'clock position on the wheel.. The interior is laid out elegantly, with a big reliance on horizontal planes on all levels of the dashboard.

Think of it as a vehicle that packs all the new-level luxury of the Navigator into a smaller package, and it seals the deal by throwing even more new tech in its direction.

Now playing: Watch this: 2020 Lincoln Aviator takes off at LA Auto Show When Lincoln unveiled the Aviator 'concept' at the 2018 New York Auto Show, its doneness and intent for production was patently obvious.. Optional hybrid powerThe base engine, if you can call it that, is a 3.0-liter twin-turbocharged V6 good for 400 horsepower and 400 pound-feet of torque.. Take note, Lexus and Cadillac Lincoln also took the 'floating roof' look one step further by blacking out both the D-pillar and the A-pillar, and I dig it.. A 10-speed automatic transmission is standard If you really want to hustle the kids to lacrosse practice, though, the Aviator Grand Touring offers plug-in hybrid tech by way of an electric motor sandwiched between the engine and transmission.. That gives it a sleeker, almost wagon-like silhouette I'm not the biggest fan of the headlights, which I think looked better on the concept version, but both the lights and grille are appropriate proportioned for the front end. The third row is more of an occasional fare; while my 6-foot-0 frame fit back there, awkward leg angles make it less viable for long stretches.. For 2020, the Americans are back with two new models aimed at the big mid-size, three-row luxury crossover SUV class: the 2020 Cadillac XT6 and the 2020 Lincoln Aviator.. The quad tailpipes give it just the right bit of rebelliousness Inside, things stay pretty true to the concept.. Wagon-ish good looksThe Aviator has a long, low stance, helping separate it from the bulkier Navigator.. The PHEV Aviator will have two additional drive modes, as well, in addition to the usual suspects like sport and bad-weather modes. Download Rapidshare Counter Strike 1.6 No Steam

Things stay classic around back, where a single red strip of taillight runs the width of the rear end above classy clear lenses.. Net output is 450 horsepower and 600 pound-feet of torque As for all-electric range and figures of that ilk, Lincoln didn't divulge any battery specifications, saying only that it's compact enough to live under the passenger side of the vehicle without impacting interior space.. Since it rides on the new Ford Motor Company platform that will underpin the next Explorer, rear-wheel drive is standard and all-wheel drive is optional.. Pure EV mode will allow the Aviator to roll on electrons alone, while Preserve EV will maintain the battery's current charge level to ensure it's ready when it's needed.. Higher end trims of Aviator use a turned metal finish in lieu of wood -- it's a nod to the aviation theme, and I think it's damn classy.. Now, just a few short months later, it's time to take a look at the real deal The 2020 Lincoln Aviator is a new three-row SUV from Ford's fancy sibling. cea114251b
